House of Representatives.

POST BOUTES IN NEBRASKA AND KANSAS. On motion of Mr. HENN, a resolution was adopted, instructing the Committee on the Post Office and Post Roads to inquire into the expediency of establishing certain post routes in lowe and Nebraska.

Mr. HOUSTON asked leave to introduce a resolution, proposing that, after Saturday next, the daily hour of meeting shall be eleven o'clock, a. m.,

LAND FOR RAILROADS. Mr. DAVIS, of Indiana, in accordance with previous notice, introduced a bill granting certain unsold sections of land in Indiana for railroad pur-poses in that State. Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

Public Lands.

The House resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union, Mr. Bococin the chair, and resumed the consideration of the PACIFIC RAILROAD BILL.

Mr. STANTON, of Tennessee, being anxious to get through with the public business, would not detain the committee further than to say that he should vote for the bill.

Mr. BRIDGES said he was opposed to it on constitutional grounds, and asked and obtained leave to print his argument on the subject.

Mr. HENDRICKS remarked, he did not rise to discuss the measure before the committee, but the leave to print his argument on the subject.

Mr. HENDRICKS remarked, he did not rise to discuss the measure before the committee, but the subject of the public lands. He would say, however, that as he now understood the bill he could not give to it his support. It assumes that Congress ought not to establish the route, but that it ought to be decided by the executive department of the government. Until it shall be shown that the central route (in which the section of the country from which he came is interested) is not the right one, he would not support the bill which excludes it. As between the schemes, first, giving the lands on easy terms to the settlers, and secondly, distributing them among the States, he was in favor of the former proposition, and, as a consequence, against the latter. The two are incompatible and cannot stand together. The duty of Congress does not extend to the subjects of granting lands for charities, such as the benefit of the indigent insane, and for educational and internal improvement purposes among the several States. He approved, generally, of the recent veto of the President, and believed that it would give the administration a high position in the country.

Mr. DISNEY resumed his remarks, commenced three or four weeks ago, when he was interrupted by the expiration of the hour to which he was imited in debate.

He discussed the propositions: that, in all grants of land, the general government has not omitted to make its action inure, directly and immediately, to the pecuniary advantage of the government itself, and not to that of the respective States; that to the pecuniary advantage of the government it-self, and not to that of the respective States; that never, in the history of the government, nor in the history of any private land ownership, was there ever so rigid economy in relation to the disposi-tion of vast tracts of land; and that the new States tion of vast tracts of land; and that the new States were ever favored by grants of public lands was. par excellence and pre-eminently, the most absurd of all ideas that had ever entered the heads of men. He reviewed the report of Mr. BENNETT in support of the bill introduced by that gentleman, proposing to distribute public lands for educational and school purposes, saying that so far from regarding it as containing even a single error, it does not contain a single truth.

Mr. CHANDLER said he felt a deep interest in the Pacific realroad hill representing as he

Mr. CHANDLER said he felt a deep interest in the Pacific railroad bill, representing, as he does, a commercial community. He believed, however, this was not the time to discuss the subject. He hoped that the measure was not dead, even if it was allowed to sleep. It was of so much importance that every man should hear all that can be said for and against it.

His object in rising was to discuss a bill pending in committee, requiring the prepayment of all ing in committee, requiring the prepayment of all mailable matter, and increasing the postage on a single letter from three to five cents. This bill ne opposed, answering arguments which had been made in its favor. If the Post Office Department is to be made a self-sustaining machine, then he would demand, in the name of the reading and writing people of the country, that the department shall be credited with all excess of income which has been poured into the national treasury at any former period. The very means, he contended, to increase the revenue of the de-partment, which the Committee on the Post Office and Post Roads proposes, would only tend to diminish them.

Mr. BISHOP PERKINS said he did not doubt the constitutionality of giving alternate sections of land for the purpose of establishing a railroad connexion with the Pacific, nor did he question the national importance of such an undertaking But the question occurred, was this a proper bill In the first place, he affirmed that this proposed a double road, and nothing else. It starts nowhere, meets nowhere, and goes nowhere, on the map. He entered into a calculation as to the expense of a road from Vicksburg to San Francisco, pense of a road from Vicksburg to San Francisco, showing that it will cost ninety-four millions of dollars. He thought, however, there would be no difficulty in getting a road, if it should be made to start somewhere and go somewhere, by way of a central instead of a southern route.

Mr. GIDDINGS rose to a personal explanation, replying to remarks heretofore made by Mr. SMITH, of Virginia, with reference to that gentleman.

Mr. SINGLETON obtained the floor, when, on motion the committee rose.

DIPLOMATIC AND CONSULAR ESTABLISHMENT.

Mr. PERKINS, of Louisiana, introduced a bill to remodel the diplomatic and consular estab ish-ment, which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.
The House adjourned.

Sick Headache Remedy.-A remedy fo the sick headache, which has been recently offered to the public, is attracting great attention, not only reason of the very satisfactory testimonials to efficacy which have been volunteered by many who have been benefited by it, but also because there are so great a number of people who are af-flicted with the distressing complaint, for which no medicine has before been made public. Dr Eastman, who discovered the efficacy of his "rem-Eastman, who discovered the efficacy of his "rem-edy," is a physician in this city, in high standing, with a large practice. He is a physician in whom great confidence is placed; and we do not wonder that his remedy for a very common disease, which has been so long needed, has attracted the attention of all sufferers from headache who have heard of it. From our own knowledge of Dr. Eastman's char acter and practice, we have no doubt that the med-ical descrees the favor it receives, and that it will icine deserves the favor it receives, and that it will prove to be a great benefit to all who may give it a trial.—Lynn News, December 23, 1853.

Inventive Genius is restless, unrestrained, ex ercising itself on every subject which comes within its extensive field—the world. Objects high and low, magnificent, utilitarian, and luxurious, or minute and insignificent, all fall under its influence; and more especially is this the case in our country, where competition enters so largely into the business affairs of life, and the patent fees, as ompared with those of other lands, are but trifles. Among the recent patents issued from the Patent Office, is one for a machine for washing bottles; nother for a moth killer; a third, for improve nent in machines to print subscribers' names on newspapers; a fourth for improved eyelet machine, and, a fifth, for improved machine for cleaning and watering streets. All useful enough in their way. As to the last named, several machines, after that pattern, would be quite useful in this city, especially along the line of Pennsylvania avenue; where move, on windy days, immense volumes of dust and gritty particles, to the serious annoyand

A Grand Panorama is in progress of painting, n this city, by the popular Indian painter, Stanley, ssisted by Lamb, a scenic artist of excellent repute. We are of the opinion that it will prove one of the best executed and most attractive works of its kind, if not the very best ever witnessed in this country. It represents the wild and beautiful cenes of the journey over the plain and mounain, through forest and prairie, from the headwaters of the Missouri to the Pacific ocean. The indians in camp, on the hunt, in battle, etc., are portrayed; the beasts of the forest, its crags, and waterfalls, rivers and fountains; sunshine and storm; spring, summer, and autumn, are all beautifully and faithfully pictured. Latest from the Plains. NEAR FORT LEAVENWORTH, I. T., May 30, 1854.

All nature is robed in the most beautiful and fancy colors of the month of flowers. Inde-pendent of the lovely scenery around and about this post, I witnessed one of the grandest sights on yesterday that I had ever seen before. It is well known that the government intends to send a military command to California by way of the Salt Lake. This command, consisting of companies A and H, 3d artillery, 40 dragoon recruits dismounted, 50 mounted, intended for the three companies of the 1st regiment of Dragoons now in California, a hundred wagons, 300 horses, and six hundred mules, under the general direction of Lieutenant Colonel E. J. Steptoe, 3d artillery, struck their tents and commenced leaving the border of civilization on yesterday and marched some eight or ten

The officers with the companies are Colonel Stentoe, Brevet Major John F. Revno tenant Chandler and Livingston, and Robert O. Tyler, all of the 3d artillery. Lieutenant Mowry, of the 3d artillery, commands the recruits dismounted ; Lieutenant Allston, 1st dragoons, commands the recruits mounted; and Captain Ingalls, assistant quartermaster, with a hundred citizens, has charge of the horses, mules, and wagons. Dr. Wirtz is surgeon to

It is the intention of government that this command shall winter at Salt Lake city, for two reasons—one, to recruit men and ani-mals, and the other reason is not positively known; perhaps it is to distribute some metali presents to the murderers of Captain Gunnion's party.

A large number of Mormons, from Europe, are now making their way for the land where a man is religiously entitled to as many wives as he can afford to keep. What a loving country it must be! In fact, the whole prairie, within ten miles of the river, is covered with wagons, tents, mules, horses, and cattle, intended for New Mexico, California, Oregon, or the Mornon country. A full and authentic report is given of the battle between Lieut. John W. Davidson's command and a party of nearly 300 Apache Indians, on the 30th of March, in one of the weekly Santa Fe Gazettes for April. His command numbered 60 non-commissioned officers and privates—44 from "1" company and 16 "F," first dragoons. Fourteen men of company and eight of "F" were killed on the field: 14 men of "I" company and 8 of "F" were wounded. Lieut. Davidson and Assistant Surgeon D. T. Magruder were slightly

Two companies of the first regiment of dragoons will leave Fort Leavenworth, on or about he 1st of July, for New Mexico. Col. Fauntleroy will go in command of the squadron, with his regimental staff and band. Maj. Chilton and Lieut. Hastings will command "B" company. Lieuts. Adams and Magruder will command "D" company. With this command will be several ladies and officers belonging to companies now serving in New Mexico.

On account of the Indian difficulties in New Mexico, the order directing four companies of the second dragoons to leave the Territory has been countermanded.—Cor. Balt. Sun. Amusements.

The Kansas Emigration Society of Massachusetts.—We have before spoken of the association incorporated by the legislature of Massachusetts, under the name of the "Emigrant Aid Society," the object of which is to secure the occupation of Kansas by free settlers. A temporary organization was made by appointing Eli Thayer, of Worcester, as president, and Dr. Thos. H. Webb, of Boston, as secretary. Books of subscription have been opened at Boston, Worcester, and New York, and a meeting of the stockholders for permanent organization, will be held in Boston on the first Wednesday of June. Its capital is $5,000,000, in shares of $100. It is prohibited from holding more than $20,000 in real estate in Massachusetts, or to assess more than $4 cn each share in 1854, or more than $10 in any year thereafter. Its plan, already decided upon, is to contract forthwith with the transportation lines for the convey-Its plan, already decided upon, is to contract forth-with with the transportation lines for the convey-ance of 20,000 emigrants, giving the advantage of the reduced fare to the emigrants; to erect imme-diately a large receiving establishment in Kansas, where the immigrants may be accommodated until they have time to settle themselves; to send out and set in operation steam saw-mills, grist-mills, and such necessaries of civilization as require capital, with the apparatus for a weekly newspa-ner. capital, with the apparatus for a weekly newspa-per. The committee say that it will be but two or three years before the company can dispose of its property in the Territory first occupied, and reim-burse itself for its first expenses. At that time, in a State of 70,000 inhabitants, it will possess several reservations of 640 acres each—on which its boarding-houses and mills stand—and the churches and school-houses which it has rendered neces-ary. These points will then be the large comand school-houses which it has rendered neces-sary. These points will then be the large com-mercial positions of the new State. If there were only one such, its value, after the region should be so far peopled, would make a very large divi-dend to the company which sold it, besides re-storing its original capital, with which to enable it to attempt the same adventure elsewhere.

Awful Accident.-About three o'clock yesterday afternoon, an accident, which it is feared will prove fatal in its result, occurred at the rolling mill of Messrs. Elliot on Block street near the mill of Messrs. Elliot on Block street near the Draw Bridge, some of the workmen were engaged in breaking up old castings, preparatory to using them in the furnace. This is done by placing a quantity in a pile beneath a heavy "pea," a hammer which is raised up to a considerable height, something like the hammer of a pile driving machine, and then let suddenly fall upon the mass. Mr. Thomas J. Thompson, the weigh-master, and receiving and delivery clerk of the establishment, was passing at the time, and stopped to see the was passing at the time, and stopped to see the effect of the blow. The hammer came down, shattering the mass, one piece of which, about the size of a man's fist, flew off with great force and struck Mr. T. in the forehead, mashing in the skull in a shocking manner, and rendering him insensible. Physicians were immediately sent for and a partial examination induced the opinion that he could not possible survive and he was removed. ould not possibly survive, and he was ren b his residence in Pratt street. Drs. 5.—The case of Montague, charged with the murder of Gardiner G. Thomson, on the 17th of June, 1852, was concluded this morning at half past eleven o'clock. At that time the jury came in with a verdict of "not guilty." The verdict was received with some demonstration of evolution with a verdict of "not guilty." The verdict was received with some demonstrations of applause by the crowd which was immediately suppressed by the court. The prisoner appeared much affected, and wept freely for some minutes, after hearing his acquittal. He was taken into the jail adjacent to the court-house by his friends; and from thence conveyed in a carriage to his residence on Harding street. Immediately the rumor, that the jury had given in a verdict of acquittal, pervaded the city, crowds of persons might have been seen hurrying to the court to ascertain its correctness. The number of persons present a few minutes after the verdict must have been at least one thousand. Public opinion seems about least one thousand. Public opinion seems about equally divided in regard to the propriety of the

The Long Island Murder-Capture of the Murderer-Great Excitement.-Nicholas Bain, the murderer of Mr. and Mrs. Wickham, at their residence in Cutchogue, Long Island, was cap-tured at 9 o'clock yesterday morning in the woods, eight miles from the bloody scene. The inhabt-ants had turned out in a body to hunt the villain, and when they found him-they could scarcely be and when they found sim-they could scarcety be restrained from hanging him to a tree. He had cut his throat with the intention of committing suicide, and was weak from the loss of blood. He was armed with a loaded pistol and knife, but made no resistance. Officer Dowling and Constable Nesbitt, of this city, are said to have been the means of preventing the excited multitude from hanging him on the spet and had be not been hanging him on the spot, and had he not been much exhausted from loss of blood, it is probable their interference could not have saved him. He was placed in the custody of the sheriff of Suf-folk County, and taken to River Head, the county town, where he was locked up for trial.-Journal

Death by a Bear.-The Journal de Quebe

"The coroner was called on Tuesday to make an inquest on the body of a farmer, named J. B. Cantin, who lost his life in a combat with a bear on Monday last. It appears that at noon on that day, a bear, which had been already seen in that neighborhood, had attacked one of Cantin's cows, and he determined to follow the animal armed, with a fowling piece. In the evening a discharg of a fire arm was heard at a great distance. Hi prolonged absence having excited fears for his safety, a party of neighbors set out to seek for him, and the following day found his corpse in a the man and the ferocious animal. He was com-pletely disfigured, and had his gun broken in many pletely disfigured, and had his gun broken in many pieces lying around about him. Near to him was the bear, pierced with two balls in the flank and shoulder, Cantin leaves five children. The bear has since been sold at Quebec for £4. He weighs 300 pounds, from which it may be judged what kind of an adversary poor Cantin had.

Boat in the Rapids.-About noon on Monday our citizens were startled by the announcement that a boat was coming down the rapids above Goat Island. The excitement was increased, as umors of persons on board were circulated. The coat proved to be a lake scow, in the employ of P. B. Porter, Esq., and had got adrift above Grass Island. She floated down by the east side of that island, and it seems to be the opinion generally entertained, that had the persons, three or four in number, aboard, not been frightened, they might have landed her at the head of the Hydraulic canal. But the desire of self preservation prompted them to take to their small boat and put ashore. leaving the scow, with a small dog, a gun, and some articles of clothing, all of which floated down to a point just west of the head of Goat Island and above the Three Sisters, where the boat became firmly fastened to the rock. It has since been quite a prominent point of attractivisit ors and citizens.—Niagara Falls Globe.
